

Introduction

Our firm, Gainplan, LLC, is an investment adviser registered with the Securities and Exchange Commission. We feel that it is important for you to understand how advisory and brokerage services and fees differ in order to determine which type of account is right for you. There are free and simple tools available to research firms and financial professionals at www.investor.gov/CRS, which also provides educational materials about investment advisers, broker-dealers, and investing.

What investment services and advice can you provide me?

We are a registered investment adviser that offers investment advisory services to retail investors for an ongoing asset-based fee. Our advisory services include Asset Management and Comprehensive Portfolio Management. If you open an advisory account with our firm, we'll meet with you to understand your current financial situation, existing resources, goals, and risk tolerance. Based on what we learn, we'll recommend a portfolio of investments that is monitored at least quarterly, and if necessary, rebalanced to meet your changing needs, stated goals and objectives. We'll offer you advice on a regular basis and contact you at least annually to discuss your portfolio. Financial planning is included in our Comprehensive Portfolio Management service for no additional fee. Financial planning is also offered as a separate service for an additional flat or hourly fee.

We have contracted with outside CPAs and attorneys to provide accounting and legal services to our clients with such needs. We perform initial and ongoing due diligence on these service providers, and the services they contract to provide to our clients to ensure they meet each individual client's needs. Clients are under no obligation to use these providers based upon their engagement of our firm for any other purpose.

We manage accounts on a discretionary basis. After you sign an agreement with our firm, we're allowed to buy and sell investments in your account without asking you in advance. Any limitations will be described in the signed advisory agreement. We will have discretion until the advisory agreement is terminated by you or our firm. We do not restrict our advice to limited types of products or investments and our firm does not impose requirements for opening and maintaining accounts or otherwise engaging us.

Additional information about our advisory services is located in Item 4 of our Firm Brochure, which is available online at <https://adviserinfo.sec.gov/firm/summary/174427>.

What fees will I pay?

You will be charged an ongoing quarterly fee based on the value of the investments in your account for both our Asset Management, and Comprehensive Portfolio Management services. Our maximum annual fee is 2.00%. Our fees vary and are negotiable. The amount you pay will depend on the services you receive and the amount of assets in your account. The more assets you have in your advisory account, the more you will pay us. We therefore have an incentive to increase the assets in your advisory account in order to increase our fees. Our firm's fees will be automatically deducted from your advisory account, which will reduce the value of your advisory account. In rare cases, our firm will agree to send you invoices rather than automatically deduct our firm's fees from your advisory account.

The broker-dealer that holds your assets charges you a transaction fee when we buy or sell certain investment products for you. The broker-dealer's transaction fees are in addition to our firm's fees. You may also pay charges imposed by the broker-dealer holding your accounts for certain investments and maintaining your account. Some investments, such as mutual funds, exchange traded funds, and variable annuities, charge additional fees that will reduce the value of your investments over time. For clients engaging the CPAs and attorneys we have contracted with, the fee will be included as a part of the fee quoted for our Financial Planning service where necessary. We negotiate reduced rates for our clients than what they would otherwise be charged by these firms absent our referral and arrange to have them provided to our clients at the cost we pay.

You will pay fees and costs whether you make or lose money on your investments. Fees and costs will reduce any amount of money you make on your investments over time. Please make sure you understand what fees and costs you are paying.

Additional information about our fees is located in Item 5 of our Firm Brochure, which is available online at <https://adviserinfo.sec.gov/firm/summary/174427>.

What are your legal obligations to me when acting as my investment adviser? How else does your firm make money and what conflicts of interest do you have?

When we act as your investment adviser, we have to act in your best interest and not put our interest ahead of yours. At the same time, the way we make money creates some conflicts with your interests. You should understand and ask us about these conflicts because they can affect the investment advice, we provide you. Here are some examples to help you understand what this means:

Representatives of our firm are licensed insurance agents/brokers. They may offer products and receive normal and customary commissions as a result of these transactions. A conflict of interest may arise as these commissionable sales may create an incentive to recommend products based on the compensation they may earn.

Charles Schwab & Co. (Schwab) makes available to us products and services that benefit us but may not directly benefit the client or their account(s). These products include investment research, both Schwab's own and that of third parties as well as those to further develop our business enterprise falling under four general categories: Legal, Compliance, Technology & Research, and Marketing & Consulting. The availability of these services from Schwab benefits us because we do not have to produce or purchase them, and we don't have to pay for Schwab's services. This creates an incentive to recommend that you maintain your account with Schwab, based on our interest in receiving Schwab's services rather than on your interest in receiving the best value in custody services and most favorable execution of your transactions.

Additional information about our conflicts of interest is located in Items 10 & 12 of our Firm Brochure, which is available online at <https://adviserinfo.sec.gov/firm/summary/174427>.

How do your financial professionals make money?

Our financial professionals are compensated based on the revenue our firm earns from their advisory services or recommendations, the amount of client assets they service, and the time and complexity required to meet a client's needs. Additionally, employees of our firm are compensated for new business brought to the firm and based on client attrition targets set annually.

Do you or your financial professionals have legal or disciplinary history?

No, our firm and financial professionals do not have any legal and disciplinary history to disclose. Visit Investor.gov/CRS for a free and simple search tool to research our firm and our financial professionals.

Questions to Ask Us:

- Given my financial situation, should I choose an investment advisory service? Why or why not?
- How will you choose investments to recommend to me?
- What is your relevant experience, including your licenses, education and other qualifications?
- How might your conflicts of interest affect me, and how will you address them?
- As a financial professional, do you have any disciplinary history? For what kind of conduct?
- Help me understand how fees and costs may affect my investments. If I give you $10,000 to invest, how much will go to fees and costs and how much will be invested for me?
- Who is my primary contact person?
- Is he or she a representative of an investment adviser or a broker-dealer?
- Who can I talk to if I have concerns about how this person is treating me?
